Katherine Culhane serves in the role of the Associate Director of the Small Business Development Center at Indian River State College (SBDC). The SBDC is the grant funded partner of the Small Business Administration (SBA) mandated to provide consulting, coaching and training to support the success of small businesses within the communities of the Treasure Coast.

Katherine is a former professional of the banking and financial services industry, with an extensive background in leadership, management and commercial lending.

As a credentialed consultant with the SBDC, she has built upon a lifelong interest in personal as well as organizational development and achieved certifications through SHRM as a Senior Certified Professional, Genos International as an Emotional Intelligence Facilitator, and TTI Success Insights as a DISC Behavioral Analyst.

Her educational background also includes a Master's of Science in Organizational Learning and Leadership from Barry University.
